

Senators glad Nixon moves on scandal

State Senators William D. Faust and John McCauley share the thinking of millions of Americans in the action taken by President Nixon in the Watergate tragedy.

The two state senators representing Romulus in the Michigan Senate said they're glad the President is doing something to restore peoples' faith in government.

In his address to the nation Monday night, Nixon announced the resignations of Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and top White House aids H.R. Haldeman and John D. Erlichman. He fired White House counsel John Dean III.

'I think they should get at the truth and punish those responsible. It puts a whole cloud on the office of the president.'

AT THE SAME time Nixon announced the appointment of Secretary of Defense Elliot Richardson to become acting attorney general and overseer of all federal investigations of the Watergate conspiracy.

In commenting to The Roman, Faust said: It looks as though the President has tried to bring it to a head. He's trying to get to the bottom of it.

I'M IMPRESSED with the appointment of Richardson, since he isn't a political animal like the rest of them in that position. He's a professional administrator, and I think he can get to the bottom of the scandal, if given a chance.

"It's taken 11 months now, but maybe we'll get to the bottom of the whole thing."

SENATOR McCauley said "I think it's time something was done. Although I hate to see any aspersions cast on the high office of the president, I think the resignations will ease the feeling of distrust the American people have in government."

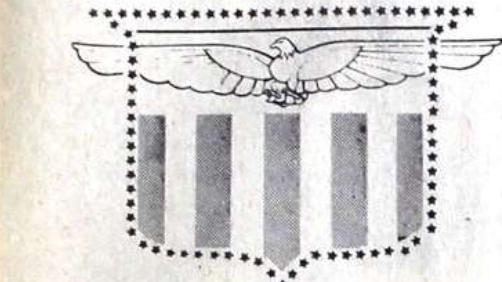

While State Rep. Edward Mahalak said: "I think the president hopefully means what he says that there should be a full investigation of the matter and let the chips fall where they may. It's unfortunate that they resort to these tactics in national politics, violating a federal law against wire tapping. I think they should get at the truth and punish those responsible.

It puts a whole cloud on the office of the president."

ANOTHER AREA legislator, Gary Owen, said: "It's beautiful - and long overdue."

Continuing, Owen said: "I think the President has taken constructive steps to identify and get rid of the persons who were involved in the Watergate affair. It's a 100 percent improvement over his actions of the past."

Council approves rezoning for new apartment complex

The Romulus City Council has taken preliminary steps toward approving a highrise apartment complex for Merriman Road north of Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The council voted unanimously at its April 24 meeting to rezone 32 acres of land near Beverly and Merriman roads in the city from a single-family home designation to a highrise multiple zoning at the request of Corral Enterprises, Inc. Corral representatives stated they only wanted the rezoning if the land would be dedicated to a use similar to their proposed 740-unit apartment structure.

"WE WOULD ask that no one get the assignment of the land unless they agree to the high degree of maintenance assumed by Corral Enterprises, including outside maintenance, snow removal, and rubbish removal. "In exchange, we will stipulate that the land may revert to the old zoning classification if we do not meet such requirements as financing and the start of construction within a specified time period."

The developer asked that it be given two years to start construction. Included are two 12-story towers and eight five-story towers. Rents in the project are proposed to range from a minimum of $155 per month for efficiency apartments to $228 for a two-bedroom apartment.

Councilman James Stewart asked that the council receive more information on the proposed rezoning before it makes the change permanent.

"I'M NOT ASKING just on this matter, but on all matters — that the council get more than one page of information on a rezoning," said Stewart.

"As an example, I don't know what this rezoning and

Council to decide payment

The Romulus City Council was to decide last night whether to pay John H. Majchrzaks for the slaying of four deer by a roving pack of dogs more than a year ago.

Majchrzaks originally appeared before the council more than a year ago to complain that the city's loose enforcement of the dog ordinance allowed a pack of dogs to roam near his farm. The council offered him $1 per deer — as specified in an old law.

The law says that a farmer would receive one dollar per head for livestock killed through the fault of the city. When Majchrzaks complained that the deer could not be replaced with that sum, the council requested an opinion from the city attorney on whether the city can pay more for the deer.

proposals, chambers by charter are prohibited from endorsing candidates. "Chambers of commerce also are prohibited from offering financial support to any candidate, be he a candidate for municipal or school office," the spokesman reiterated.

But he did state that "individual members of our organization can endorse candidates... as would members of any other community-spirited organization."

The question of official chamber endorsement arose because of an incorrect news report in last week's editions of the Romulus Roman.

Council orders audit of Housing Commission

The Romulus City Council has ordered an audit of the city's Public Housing Commission.

The council ordered the audit at its April 24 council meeting after Ernest Davis, recently deposed chairman of the commission, charged that there were wrong-doings in its operations since 1969.

The charges were essentially the same as those Davis pressed against the com-

Romulus city officials will soon be receiving a letter from the Romulus Board of Education expressing concern for city recreation programs.

The action was instigated by Jack A. Bath, school board member, backed by Mrs. Diane Boger, board vice president, who both expressed concern in the light of the "vested interest" of the school district in the program.

The board approved the proposal by Bath to set up an ad hoc committee to research the recreation program and approved the suggestion of Gerald A. Budd, board secretary, to seek a meeting with the Romulus City Council to discuss the program.

mission more than two years ago. Those charges, that the past urban renewal directors had lost money and misspent funds in urban renewal projects, were not found in an audit of the commission books in 1917.

At the April 24 meeting, George Wilhelmi, present urban renewal director, said that two audits and three separate directors have not proven Davis' charges.

He said he would cooperate in any way with the audit, since "the Housing Commission has nothing to hide."

Audits in the past turned up mismanagement in the Housing Commission but have not found any wrong-doing.

In addition to the audit, the council asked for an investigation by "the proper federal authorities." The Department of Housing and Urban Development has turned up no problems in the Romulus Housing Com-

Chamber of commerce doesn't support candidates

A spokesman for the Romulus Chamber of Commerce stressed today that the chamber does not get involved as an "official body" in the support of candidates seeking public office.

Though chambers of commerce support community projects, ranging from development to millage proposals, chambers by charter are prohibited from endorsing candidates. "Chambers of commerce also are prohibited from offering financial support to any candidate, be he a candidate for municipal or school office," the spokesman reiterated.

But he did state that "in-

School board approves hirings

Plans for carrying out the extended class program at Romulus Junior High School were discussed at a special meeting of the Romulus Board of Education last night.

The board heard recommendations of the committee set up to study the extended day situation and the recommendations of School Supt. Robert L. McConeghy in adapting suggestions made by the committee.

The board approved hiring three administrators, three counselors and four secretaries for the junior high school program which will take in grades six through nine.

STATE REQUIREMENTS call for 300 minutes of class time for students which brings about the possibility of students "brown bagging" their lunches in order to fulfill that requirement without extending hours further.

Staggering of hours is tentatively planned for grades six and seven to be in class for the early "shift" while grades eight and nine will be in school in the afternoon.

According to Thomas M. Janack, assistant superintendent for maintenance and operation, there should be no problem with busing students or with bus driver schedules.

Each class would have its own textbooks and the program calls for locker sharing by the morning and afternoon classes and use of hall monitors where necessary.

OTHER SEGMENTS of the recommendation made by the committee and Supt. McConeghy are under consideration by the board with action to be taken at the May 7 meeting.

Romulus to choose ambulance service

By JIM CARAVALLAH

The Romulus City Council was expected to take a step toward choosing one of the two ambulance services now under contract to the city at last night's council meeting.

The council last week announced its intention to consider rescinding a contract between Superior Ambulance Company and the city which was ratified at a special meeting March 10.

Rescinding the contract approval with Superior, would award an ambulance contract to General Ambulance Company by default.

The council originally rescinded the Superior Ambulance contract at its March 27 meeting. Mayor Hyle Carmichael vetoed the rescinding order on March 29, leaving the city with two ambulance contracts.

The hassle over ambulance contracts started in February, when Superior announced its intention to withdraw service from the city by midnight, March 10, if the city council did not approve a contract for ambulance protection by that date.

The council approved an agreement at a special meeting called March 10 at a cost of $4,200 per year. At that time, the council asked that a contract be drafted by the city attorney.

THREE weeks later, General Ambulance company came before the council to offer the service of several ambulances at a cost of $4,000 per year.

After 35 minutes of deliberation at the March 27 meeting, the council voted to rescind the ambulance contract with Superior with Councilmen Edmund Bizak and William Oakley dissenting and Councilman Fred Junior Block absent.

In a subsequent motion, the council awarded the contract to General Ambulance, with Bizak abstaining and Oakley voting "no."

The council justified its actions by stating that no contract between Superior and the city had been signed by either party, and blamed the city attorney for delaying the drafting of the contract.

MAYOR HYLE Carmichael vetoed the rescinding order from the March 27 meeting on March 29, leaving the city with two ambulance contracts.

The council failed to override the veto at its April 3 meeting.

At the same meeting, representatives from General Ambulance came before council and offered to continue ambulance service to the city without charge until the hassle is resolved.

Tree plantings improve view

LANSING — There are 4,500 more trees and bushes and 6,800 fewer billboards along state highways this spring than there were a year ago.

The trees have been planted and the billboards removed to make the roadsides more attractive.

Before another year passes, it's expected that more than 14,000 additional trees and bushes will be planted and

Firms occupy new quarters

Shelter Systems, Inc., a land developing firm, and Leisurely Corporation, a newly formed corporation, have moved into offices at Willow Run Airport, Ypsilanti.

Shelter Systems, Inc. was previously at 21840 W. Nine Mile Rd., Southfield.

Shelter Systems, Inc. is the developer of Lake Pointe Village, Belleville, which is still under construction.

several thousand more billboards taken down.

MORE THAN HALF of the nearly 30,000 signs along Michigan's Interstate freeways and primary highways are being removed under the state Billboard Control Act enacted last year.

The trees are being planted under the State Highway Commission's continuing roadside beautification program.

"Some trees necessarily have to be removed from highway construction and for safety reasons when they're too close to the highway," said E.V. Erickson, chairman of the State Highway Commission.

"At the same time, the state highway program provides for the planting of thousands of trees annually along new and reconstructed highways, particularly in urban areas."

Barring delays in receipt of federal aid, the commission plans to award contracts this summer for more than a million dollar in landscaping along I-96 and I-75 freeways in the Detroit area, I-94 near Mount Clemens and I-196 and I-296 in the Grand Rapids area. Plantings will total about 14,000.

PLANTINGS in the last year include:

—Nearly 1,800 trees and bushes along I-496 in the Lansing-east Lansing area.

—Nearly 400 along 2.2 miles of reconstructed M-153 (Ford Road) in Dearborn.

—1,400 along 3.1 miles of I-675 Freeway in Saginaw.

—Nearly 200 along two miles of US-25 (Gratiot) south of Mount Clemens.

—About 800 along I-96 east of East Lansing and along US-127 south of Mason in Ingham and Jackson counties.

THESE PLANTINGS of a wide variety of trees are in cooperation with Michigan State University, which is conducting a state-financed study to determine which types of trees thrive best in freeway settings, both in urban and rural areas.

"When the trees we plant become mature, they'll soften the rather hard lines of steel and concrete and beautify the freeway system," said Jack Burton, Highway Department roadside development supervisor.

"Just as important," he said, "the open area of landscaped highways creates a sort of greenbelt in many urban settings."

Senior Citizens meet tomorrow

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club will hold a board of directors meeting at 5 p.m. tomorrow at Edgemont Elementary School, Belleville.

The board meeting will be followed by a birthday-anniversary party honoring the following birthdays and anniversaries:

Velma Kulzer, Margaret Worthington, Virgil Lockrow, Bill Moser, William Pelkey, Jessie Marie Criss, Mae Fulton, Jean Randall, Gertrude Clark, George Renton, Reg Atyeo, Blanche Atyeo, Harold Cullen, Helen Keeling, Donalda McLaughlin and Ethel Cullin.

The anniversary is that of Charles and Gertrude Clark.

At this meeting a group of senior citizens from the Berkley Club will present "The Gay Nineties Review" under the direction of Mrs. Ella Heft, the Berkley Club chairman. Mrs. Heft has been club chairman for the past six years and was named Outstanding Senior Citizen of the Year there.

On Thursday, May 10, The Detroit Federation of Musicians will play for a dance program at which the Amy Seymour Group from Ypsilanti will be guests. After the dance, a speaker from the Detroit Edison will give information about the Edison company.

BELLEVILLE MAN HEADS COMMITTEE — Gilbert E. White, (left), of supply staff, Ford World Headquarters, Dearborn, receives an executive declaration from Michigan Gov. William G. Sickle cell tests, info given to area residents

A Sickle Cell Detection Day recently was held in Romulus under the sponsorship of the Family and Neighborhood Services.

A modern unit equipped mobile unit from Kerwood Hospital in Detroit visited Romulus providing free tests and information.

The mobile unit has in it all of the necessary equipment to analyze blood samples on the spot within an approximate 25 minute span. It has built in audio visual equipment to describe "The Sickle Cell Story," and accommodate eight people at a time.

The staff consisted of two laboratory technicians, a community organizer, a counselor and a youth worker who screened, detected and counseled families about the disease.

According to Dr. Charles F. Whitten, M.D., head of Detroit project, Sickle Cell Anemia is a blood disease.

Sickle Cell Anemia is a major health problem of black people in Africa, South America, Latin America, the West Indies and the United States.

During the visit of the mobile unit to Romulus, 102 persons were tested; 16 were found to have the trait. Family and Neighborhood Services hopes to have the mobile unit return to Romulus at a later date, and urges citizens who were not tested to be on alert for details of next visit.

Miss Carmeneila Smith, social worker for Family and Neighborhood Services, who arranged this visit by the mobile unit wishes to recognize those individuals and agencies that helped to make this day a success.

Otha Jones of Zeco's Party Store and Jay Calloway, assistant community development coordinator of Communities United For Action (CUFA), provided parking facilities for the Mobile Unit on Goddard and Beverly Roads respectively. Also, Mrs. Johnnie Mae Cofield, Staff and Youth Council of CUFA; Mrs. Christine Anderson, Mrs. June Taha and Tyrone Phenix of the Romulus Housing and Urban Renewal Departments worked diligently in publicizing this affair.

Radio Stations WCHB and WJLB are to be commended for their frequent announcements, she said.

School 'shift' plan advances

The proposed extended day program is expected to relieve crowding at both the elementary and high school levels by housing at the junior high school.

In other action, the board approved the motion of Mrs. Diane Boger, board vice-president, to send a letter of congratulations and commendation to the teachers, cast and those staffing the musical production of "Finian's Rainbow," put on at Romulus High School.

The board also heard a report from Asst. Supt. Janack on bids for school fuel supplies, outlining the problems brought about by the fuel shortage. The schools are currently serviced by Gulf Oil which will not extend the contract under the present fuel situation, according to Janack.

HE ALSO advised the board that he will send out bid invitations this week to "every oil company in the yellow pages."

The board also set dates for the May meetings of the board which had to be adjusted due to the Memorial Day holiday falling on the regular meeting date. The board will meet May 7, May 14 and May 29 to resolve matters concerning the June school election.

this proposed complex will do to the city as a whole. What about firefighting equipment? Can we put out a fire on the tenth floor of this building?

"What about traffic?" The councilman was offered a large booklet on the project by one of the principals of the development firm.

"MAYBE it's a lack of having a full-time planner that creates this lack of information," said Council President Jimmie C. Raspberry. "but I can say that I'm personally thrilled to have such a development placed before us."

The council must have another vote on the rezoning before the ordinance can take effect.

Election deadline is June 19

The deadline to file for candidacy in Romulus' Aug. 7 city election is 4 p.m. June 19, city officials said today.

In last week's editions of the Romulus Roman it was erroneously reported that the filing deadline for candidates was May 7.

Chamber of commerce to hold general meet

The Romulus Chamber of Commerce will hold its first general meeting from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. May 9 at the Sheraton Metro Inn in Romulus.

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Chuck Van Deusen, project director for the Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus. He will discuss the airport and its effects on Romulus business during a slide presentation at the meeting.

All area business will receive written invitations to the meeting, and representatives of each are urged to attend.

"We are hopeful that the business community will be aware of the importance of this meeting and make a special effort to attend," said Dolores Ristow, chamber executive secretary.

The chamber asks that reservations either be mailed or phoned to the office prior to May 4.

Reservations can be mailed to the chamber, 36518 Goddard Rd., Romulus, 48174.

Phone reservations must be made between the hours of 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday through Friday by calling 941-2262.

Tickets are $6 per person.

Rec director resigns

Romulus Recreation Director, Frank J. Tolish, will be leaving his post Friday.

Tolish tendered his resignation to Mayor Hyle Carmichael April 21, starting that he will be taking a job as recreation director at Highland, Ill.

In his letter, Tolish said: "Gratitude is expressed for the opportunity to serve and represent the City of Romulus."

As director in Romulus last year, Tolish received a salary of $9,500. This year's budget proposes to raise that salary to $12,000.

Romulus Public Library sets spring program

The last three in a series of spring programs at the Romulus Public Library will be held on three successive Saturdays beginning at 10:30 a.m. and will be in line with the spring program's theme on animals.

This Saturday the library will present a movie entitled, "Bear Country."

On May 12, two movies will be shown. They are "Pair of Pets" and "Dog's Obedience." On May 19, a program on horses will be shown.

The next program - a summer reading class - at the library will get underway at the end of June.

Communists fail to incite revolution

Africa lives next door

By JOHN P. McGOFF, President
Panax Newspapers
(Part Three of a Ten-Part Series)

DURBAN, SA — The people of the Republic of South Africa are looking beyond the terrorist incursions in Rhodesia and the Portuguese territories and the Red Chinese penetration in Tanzania to the north.

They have no illusions about the ultimate thrust, that the offensives are aimed at them.

Communist forces, having failed to awaken their allies to action through the United Nations to foment revolution, are using the old form of creeping infiltration of neighboring states.

THUS SOUTH AFRICA has a vital stake in a Rhodesian settlement, in the Zambian problem, in the pacification of the Portuguese territories. South Africa wants peace in these areas without internal involvement.

But South African leaders say they will not be indifferent to attempts to replace evolution with revolution which could bring a pan-Africanist imperialism supported by Russia and Red China.

They believe that if they can prevent it, they will not have slums, chaos, and revolution on their doorsteps since these are the benchmarks of the destruction of stability and prosperity.

THERE HAS BEEN no such sweeping vision of imperialism since Cecil John Rhodes dreamed of control of Africa by the British from Cape Town to Cairo on the shores of the Mediterranean, a throwback to the 19th century.

Today, South Africa's dreams must fit the facts of black self-determination and the still predominating white presence in Rhodesia, Angola, and Mozambique.

Where Rhodes dreamed in the simplistic terms of British rule, South Africans have to embrace the more complicated lines of Marshall Plans, regionalism, common markets, and international power projects.

There is no sudden solution, but South Africa is fighting with her economic, technological, and cultural power through her good neighbor policy, gambling these against revolution and imperialism.

From government leadership to the farmer, the idea of dumping isolationist policies is growing. It appeals to a deep-seated sense of calling, a basically religious belief that white people have been placed at the lower end of Africa for the purpose of transcending their own destiny.

THERE IS THE feeling in high and low places that black Africa needs them and that the world needs them in Africa, people like Jan S. Marais, banker and visionary, Anton Rupert, industrialist and visionary - vigorous people developing their country for black and white.

Universities and their students are doing fieldwork in neighboring black territories; industrialists, doctors, engineers and others are offering form and substance to the ideas of visionaries and theorists.

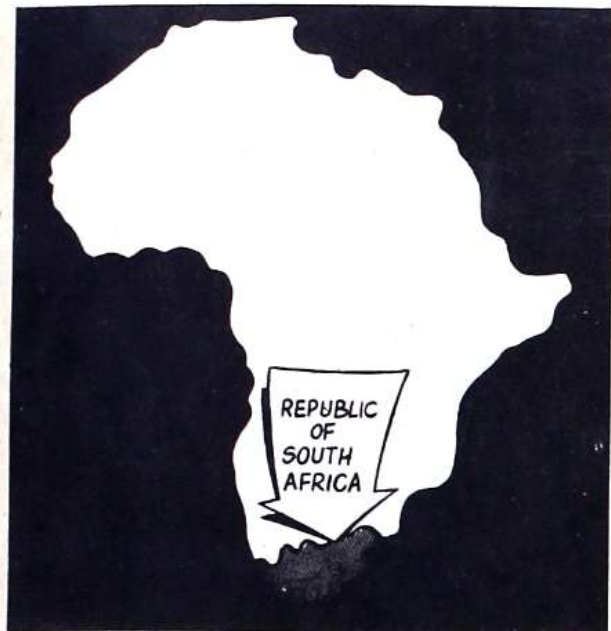

It is now a national endeavor divided into two parts, the development of a strong economy and worldwide interests, to give South Africa its place on the world stage and to put down the Red threat.

SOUTH AFRICANS are driven by a central creative idea that is flexible and adaptable enough to draw the interest and cooperation of divergent elements of South African society.

This trend may well usher in a new and more dynamic period in South African national history. Its ties with Great Britain were historic, but its sights and its ability to extend new horizons are in the making.

A strong economy and worldwide interests permit it to function in the community of nations.

The seeds are here in South Africa, growing in a philosophical soil and cultured to produce pragmatic results - a prosperity and peace with independence and self-determination.

Nation comes first

Nixon's house cleaning may clear the air

Whether President Nixon's "clean house" action will clear the air around the White House is a moot question at this date in the Watergate tragedy.

As we viewed the strain on the President's face in his Monday night address to the nation, we sensed the President's concern — and personal dismay.

Dismay because the men Mr. Nixon was forced to remove from the surroundings of the White House were trusted members of the President's staff.

Yet, at a time most critical in this nation's history, the men entrusted with Presidential responsibility — let the commander-in-chief down.

Even more damaging, they tarnished the image of the highest office in this land — and the American people who revere the White House — regardless of the occupant's political philosophy.

In last Friday's editorial columns of The Daily Eagle, a sister Panax publication of The Enterprise-Roman, we urged the President — for the good of this country's image at home and abroad — to clean house. We commend the President's action.

We also could say the action was overdue, and question why men jeopardize the prestige of the White House for personal gain and power.

Others could question whether Mr. Nixon was aware of the situation long before the June 17 arrest of the intruders of the Democratic Party's Watergate headquarters.

In this trying time for the nation, and man's respect for government, let us hope that the resignations of the President's top advisers will clear the air.

The Watergate case stemmed from the break-in and bugging of the Democratic Party's Watergate complex — and has widened into broader charges of political espionage.

Though some may assert that the resigned White House assistants are innocent until proven guilty, the President had no choice but to solicit their resignations.

At stake was the image of the White House and this nation can ill-afford to function with a cloud of mistrust over the residency of the President.

And we expect that in the days ahead new revelations will come forth, but for the time being, the nation is witnessing an attempt to clean house.

Let us hope, Democrats and Republicans, that the house has been swept clean of any possible wrongdoing — for the good of America and our democratic system of government.

In some governments around this globe, change comes when one party, or when the in-group takes control — forcibly.

Thank God this nation still functions within the framework of law and order — and that when change must come, it comes at the polls and when individuals are caught committing acts of dishonesty.

This nation will survive Watergate. We must if we are to remain a free and democratic society.

You're getting old if you remember!

NEW YORK (AP) — Your wrinkles are getting wrinkles if —

You can still remember the first names of the Rover Boys and the Bobsey twins.

Anything unusual that happens reminds you of something like it but even more unusual that happened 25 years ago.

You wonder why younger men at the office waste time staring at themselves in the washroom mirror when they comb their hair. When you look in the mirror, you don't see anything worth a second glance.

Even before taking your blood pressure your doctor can predict it within three points.

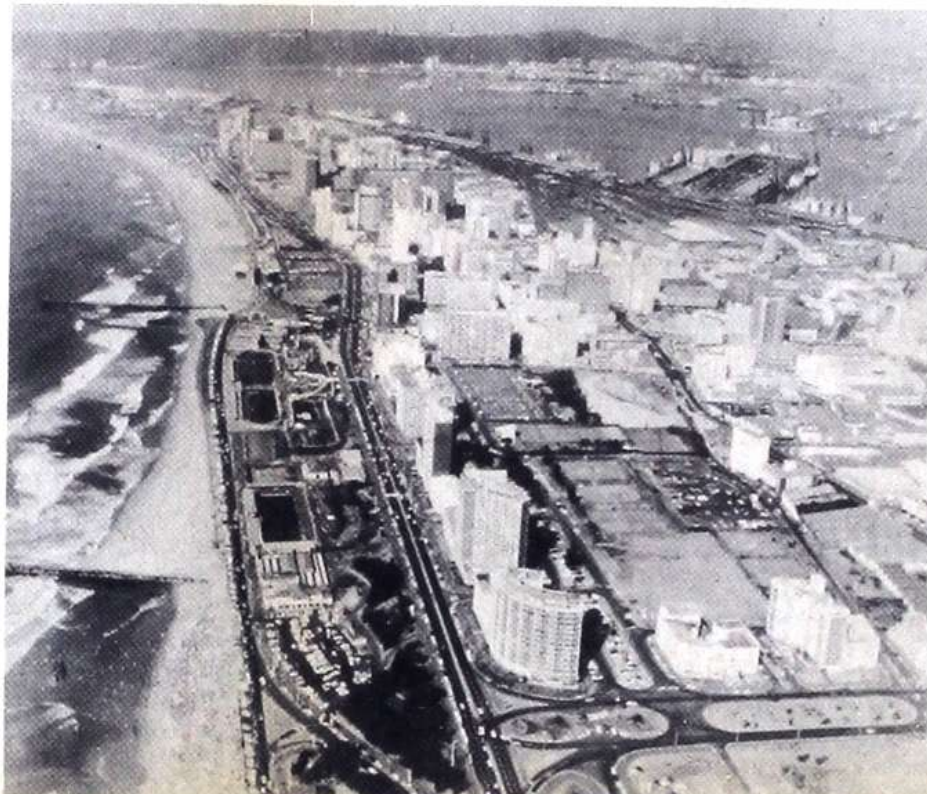

The insurance company writes you a letter and tells you that your policy is paid up at last.

Now and then you get so mad at things in general that you sit down and write a long letter to your congressman asking him what the hell does the government think it is doing anyway.

Your son is beginning to show a little gray in his sideburns.

Occasionally your wife says something that is worth listening to because it makes real sense. You wonder how the old girl got so smart all at once.

'Honesty and humility'

Walking the plank for good government

By DON HOENSHELL,
Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — Gov. William G. Milliken linked arms with Citizen Don Gordon and they walked the plank together in one of the most stirring exhibitions of realism ever witnessed in Lansing.

It all came up honesty and humility as Milliken explained his non-role in the 1970 deal for votes with ex-Rep. James Del Rio.

And topping it all was Milliken's blessings on the press for bringing to light the arrangement to give Mrs. Glenda McGuire, 27, a Del Rio girlfriend, an $18,462 job as one of his top advisors.

The events leading up to his self-expiation brought the summary firing of Mrs. McGuire, Gordon's abrupt resignation from a Milliken appointment to the civil service commission and his public apology.

"I FEEL MORE strongly than ever that the press is the watchdog over government and over public officials who serve in government," Milliken said.

"I feel more strongly than ever that a free press ... a press to remind me when I haven't taken an action that I should or when I get careless about something, is the best guarantee I know."

Then he reassigned former Democrat William H. Hettiger, another old Traverse City friend, as "an assistant governor for administration" to screen everything, including potential embarrassments.

HETTIGER IS AN old hand, having worked for former Secretary of State James M. Hare where he learned to stuff the breaks in the political dikes.

Earlier Milliken said he saw no conflict in Gordon collecting $6,000 a year as his private consultant while drawing $19,000 a year from three major Michigan utilities.

But it will be a long time before Gordon, who arranged the Del Rio deal and then was publicized as the holder of the utility jobs in research while counseling Milliken, will be in high profile in Lansing.

Milliken was asked twice when he learned of Mrs. McGuire's place on his own staff and whether he knew of the Del Rio deal for black votes before the 1970 election. His second answer:

"Oh, no, no, it was not until, really, as I recall it, several years after (sic) the election. I knew of no arrangement with Del Rio at all during the course of the election or even afterwards."

"BUT IT WAS about the time when she came on, that's when I knew but I knew of no arrangement with Del Rio at all. I had no contact with him, personally, no contact with him to my knowledge in the course of the campaign and only superficial contact, as I recall, after that."

Q: "Did you get any explanation of what she was doing on your staff?"

A: "Well, fragmentary kinds of explanations but it was not the kind of thing I pursued in any detail. And I wish I had, I wish I had."

The Glenda McGuire controversy flapping in the spring sunshine forced Milliken to reappraise. His order to restructure the staff and get a performance audit on his advisors is another sign that he will seek a second full four-year term.

office aide. The chief of staff in Milliken's office who made the deal with Del Rio, on Gordon, resigned from the civil service commission.

People here argue that Gordon's deal with Del Rio was not improper and, perhaps it wasn't in his eyes since he said he erred only in judgment.

THEN CAME the revived story that Gordon worked for pay for three big utilities while also advising the governor. Gordon said he did nothing wrong and would make the same arrangement again.

Clearly it develops that the Nixon-Gordon-Milliken view of propriety varies some from that held by their critics, and some of their friends.

The winner, of course in these weary debates — if, indeed, there must be a winner — is the guy who goes to the polls on election day.

He is, that is, if from performance and credible statement of policy he can figure whether he is being conned and used or getting an honest bill of goods.

At this point it is his judgement that is important, not the variation of sensibilities that develop in the heat of campaign.

Winterized control of Great Lakes

By TOM OCHILTREE,
Washington Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON—One of the world's most nerve and stamina-demanding jobs since men went around Cape Horn on Windjammers would be made easier and safer under plans now being considered to better regulate water levels in the Great Lakes.

These plans, now before the International Joint Commission (IJC), call among other things for winterizing the antique mechanism which controls the water flow from Lake Superior into the lower lakes at the Sault Ste. Marie - St. Mary's River area.

A study by the IJC's Great Lakes levels board estimates it would cost $350 million and require more than a decade to complete "minimal regulation" of all the lakes through channel enlargements and construction and upgrading of control works.

UNDER THE PLANS $600,000 would be spent to modernize and improve the heating equipment of the locks in Sault Ste. Marie-St. Marys River area.

The 16-gate Lake Superior regulatory structure, known as the "compensating works," was constructed between 1901 and 1921. The hand operated gear mechanisms there are exposed to the elements.

With a maximum discharge capacity of about 65,000 cubic feet per second, these gates together with adjacent hydroelectric facilities, by regulating the outflow from Lake Superior, have a direct impact on the water levels of Lakes Michigan, Huron, St. Clair and Erie. The only other existing regulatory arrangement, at the other end of the Great Lakes system, governs the flow from Lake Ontario into the St. Lawrence River.

As an emergency measure the IJC, an American-Canadian body, on January 30 ordered a reduction of 16,000 cubic feet of water per second flowing from Lake Superior. This reduction amounts to about one-fourth of the maximum discharge capacity at Sault Ste. Marie.

In addition to plans for modernizing and winterizing the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, such topics as channel improvement through Lake St. Clair and the regulation of outflow from Lake Ontario also will be discussed.

Positive action

To the Editor,

It was certainly good to see some of the Romulus city officials taking positive action rather than just giving lip service.

On Saturday, April 14, at 9 a.m., Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, City Clerk Leonard Folmar, along with Councilmen William Oakley and Fred (Junior) Block, joined our Meadows Subdivision Clean-Up Group to help launch our campaign in cleaning up the accumulated debris that is scattered around all boarded-up homes throughout our subdivision.

These city officials came dressed ready to work and indeed that's exactly what they did do. With rakes and shovels, they worked side by side with us well into the afternoon — truly showing us that these are the people that really care about citizens of Romulus.

Chief Jacob Koch of Romulus, who has been a champion of our cause for such a long time, also came to give us a helping hand.

The property owners in the Meadows, and the Romulus community as well, will be everlastingly grateful to these men for their help in making the Meadows clean-up drive a huge success.

Hopefully, the most significant part of our clean-up campaign will be a continuing sense of community pride of all citizens, not just here in the Meadows, but throughout Romulus.

Men like this, who really have the Romulus citizen and community as their priority, should be remembered.

The preaching of high 'ethical standards'

By DON HOENSHELL,
Daily Eagle Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — Political embarrassments at both the state and national level are stripping away those ethereal mists from a human sensibility for everybody to contemplate.

It is a truism repeated from the darkest and brightest of ages that the standards that bouy every man are flexible, indeed.

So the roles of President Nixon in the now-scandalous Watergate bugging case and of Gov. William G. Milliken in the 1970 vote-buying deal with a former Democratic legislator are confused.

Everybody knows that critics are people who view realism in terms of idealism, that those who fudge on their income tax or run a stop sign view with lofty disdain others who do the same things.

THERE HAS developed the men-around-him argument in both cases, that neither Nixon nor Milliken was aware of the deeds of others who work at their shoulder and neither is responsible.

Nixon lived with Watergate for almost a year and Milliken with an $18,462 a year executive staffer for eight months and both almost escaped the scorn of the multitudes.

What has happened is that the people now have something they think they can understand and it's spelled e-v-i-l, a reflection of the cynicism toward politics and government that Milliken has decied.

It is inconceivable to even the dearest friends of both Nixon and Milliken that they didn't know. Nixon has transferred the presidential loyalty from his cabinet to a tightly-knit White House staff. Milliken has expressed pride in his people and he trusts them.

And what does it matter, really, whether they knew or not? IT HAS been argued and will be again that if they knew and allowed these murky events to flower, they were charlatans. If they didn't know they were incompetent to select a trustworthy staff.

Both Nixon and Milliken preach high ethical standards but what may be one man's ethical act is another's darkest sin.

Milliken fired Ms. Glenda McGuire, the girlfriend of former Rep. James Del Rio from her $18,462 job as an executive

"PSYCHOGENIC DAY"—So as not to disrupt the conference sessions at Cobo Hall, (May 7-11), Detroit, the Society of Manufacturing Engineers (SME) has purposely scheduled "Psychogenic Day" at the Detroit Hilton Hotel, half a mile away. SME's occult Ladies Program was planned by Mrs. Olive White (left) of Belleville, whose husband Gil, is advisory committee chairman for the event. Jeanne Taylor of Birmingham, right, is a Ladies Committee member. The astrologer is Raymond D. Merriman.

Witchcraft to keep wives half-mile off

Can astrology and witchcraft solve nation's problems?

Yes, says the Society of Manufacturing Engineers (SME) as it prepares to stage the largest engineering meeting to be held in the United States this year.

More than 30,000 manufacturing engineers and executives are expected to attend SME's 1973 International Tool & Manufacturing Exposition and Engineering conference at Detroit's Cobo Hall May 7-11.

SME's thesis is simple: Keep the wives happy and interested and their husbands will accomplish more at the conference and tool show. And SME's Ladies Program is calculated to keep women fascinated.

FOR INSTANCE, "Psychogenic Day" on Tuesday, May 8, will feature astrologer Raymond D. Merriman, who maintains that the stars do influence human behavior - and he'll use several SME wives from the audience in an attempt to prove it.

Three disaster offices opened

Robert F. Phillips, district director of the Small Business Administration, Detroit District Office, has announced the opening of three disaster offices to serve victims of the severe storm and flooding which took place between March 16 and April 10, in the counties of Monroe, Wayne, Macomb, St. Clair, Huron, Saginaw, Sanilac, Tuscola, Iosco and Bay on the Eastern shoreline and Berrien county on the Western shoreline.

Phillips stated that the Small Business Administration is authorized to make disaster loans to any victim of this disaster for damage to his business, home and personal property.

Phillips further stated that shoreline erosion would not be covered in SBA financial assistance - Disaster loans, Phillips said, can run as long as 30 years at low interest rates with the first $5,000 forgiven.

The SBA Disaster Office in Southeastern Michigan is located in the National Armory, 15483 South Dixie Highway, Monroe. Phone number is 313-243-6262.

The SBA Disaster Office in Lake Huron area is located in Hampton Township Hall on M-25 in Essexville. Phone number 517-892-0721 or 892-0791.

The SBA Disaster Office in the Benton Harbor area serving Berrien county is located in St. Joseph City Hall, Room 21, St. Joseph. Phone number is 616-983-2994.

If more information is needed, persons may call the SBA Disaster branch manager located in Detroit at 1200 Book Building, Detroit, Mich., 48226. Phone number is 313-226-3100 or 266-3101.

Phillips cautioned that disaster victims should be aware of persons who seek to represent the flood victims for a fee.

Disaster victims can obtain the help they need in filing their loan applications from the Small Business Administration Disaster or District Office.

He emphasized that SBA does not charge a fee for its services and that all SBA employees working in the disaster area carry federal credentials which disaster victims should ask to see when they are approached by persons posing as representatives of the Agency.

Closing date for applications is June 13.

Legislation would regulate collection agency practices

Legislation to prohibit misleading, deceptive and wrongful collection practices and license and regulate collection agencies was introduced lately by Sen. William Faust, (D-Westland).

"The establishment of state regulations governing collection agencies is essential if we are to protect individual rights and eliminate the harassment and public abuse that some of these firms have been known to use," Faust said.

"Some of the unscrupulous tactics used by collectors falls just short of extortion, yet there is no law in the state that controls the activities of collection agencies and no one knows how many of these agencies exist," he added.

SIMILAR legislation introduced last year received the support of Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley.

In an analysis of the bill, the attorney general said there is much evidence "of varied practices which are unconscionable, unfair or deceptive in the collection of debts from Michigan consumers."

"It is not uncommon," stated the analysis, "to hear complaints of simulated legal process, and the tapping of court records by persons purporting to operate collection agencies, but in reality they have not complied with minimum state statutory requirements."

"There is use of the mails by corporations outside the state who have subsidiaries in Michigan but who are not authorized to do business in the state; the use of phony letterheads; use of the words 'legal department' in parts of collection letters and use of threats of telling an employer about unpaid debts."

"Current Michigan law is meaningless and principally designed for the protection of the creditor in his relationship with the collection agency so that a collection agency will not abscond with the proceeds of the collection."

FAUST'S proposed "Collection Practices Act"

would:

—authorize the Department of Licensing and Regulation to license all firms and determine their fitness to operate; — permit the consumer to sue any person engaging in a prohibited practice and allow the consumer to recover any amount paid to a collection agency when prohibited practice is used;

—prohibit the use of deceptive, misleading and coercive tactics used to compel people to pay debts; — impose a criminal penalty on anyone operating a collection agency without a license.

The bill also would create a collection practices advisory board and authorize the attorney general to enforce the act.

HV Girl Scouts registering for summer camp sessions

Area Girl Scouts are now registering for resident camping sessions at Camp Linden in Livingston County, according to Mrs. Louis Galan, president of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Four two-week sessions will be held from June 27 to Aug. 22, with places for 131 girls in each. Enrollment for the only one-week session, June 20-27, is now closed.

deciding how they will spend their time, special opportunities are presented to each group.

Junior Girl Scouts may elect a broad program featuring swimming, boating, hiking, bicycling, and cook-outs, as well as short term projects in crafts and other skills.

IN A WIDER Opportunities program, Cadette Scouts can frame more complicated projects such as taking overnight bicycle or canoe trips from Louis Lake to Twin Lakes and Green Lake, all within Camp Linden's 430 acres.

Some Cadettes elect to pursue major ecology projects such as correcting drainage problems or reforestation. Subjects as diverse as drama and building trees houses may be pursued in depth.

Both Junior and Cadette campers always have the option of not participating in group projects. "For many just the experience of getting away from home and city life to enjoy the out-of-doors, is all they ask or need of camp," Mrs. Galan said.

Senior Girl Scouts attend Camp Linden as aides, assisting camp counselors in areas of special interest, such as water sports, outdoor activities, or crafts, writing, music, and other Girl Scout program areas.

All campers sleep in four-man tents mounted on platforms, unless they elect to go primitive camping in round-up tents that are erected on bare ground and sleep two.

Fees for the two-week camp sessions are 160 for all ages. Camper scholarships are available. Registration and campership application forms are now available from Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, 19 North Hamilton St., Ypsilanti, 48197 or phone 483-2370.

MRS. LEON KEITH LEWIS

Lewis-Moore exchange vows, rings in April

Zion Missionary Church in Belleville was the setting for the April 20 wedding of Linda K. Moore of Willis, and Leon Keith Lewis of Belleville.

The Rev. Kark officiated the candlelight double ring ceremony uniting in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Moore of 11849 Bunton Rd., Willis, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Lewis of 19900 Crandell Court, Belleville.

Escorted to her bridegroom by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of organza and lace. It was styled with a high ring collar of lace and the same lace accented the Juliet sleeves and outlined the front panel of the A-line skirt.

Lace also covered the Camelot cap securing the bride's bouffant veil and she completed her bridal ensemble with a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

MISS JEAN Chapman, of Rosebalt Road, Willis, attended the bride as maid of honor. Her gown was styled similarly to that of the bride and was in a tangerine shade. Her bouquet was formed of variegated Spring flowers.

Gowns in the same style in varying colors, were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Debbie Moore, sister of the bride, was in lavender; Miss Cindy Chambers of Belleville, was in green, and Miss Sandy Shukait of Whittaker, Mich., was in blue. All carried variegated Spring bouquets. Ringbearer for the ceremony was James Bryant, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bryant. Four-year-old Leah Jarvis, was gown in yellow for her role as flower girl. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gray Jarvis.

THE BRIDEGROOM asked Nolan Ely of Belleville, to attend him as best man. Groomsmen were Tom Hudson, Woody Francis and Jerry Lewis, brother of the bridegroom, all of Belleville.

Witnessing the ceremony and for the reception, Mrs. Moore wore a gown in pastel blue and beige and blue accessories. Her corsage was composed of a red rose, white carnations and baby's breath. Mrs. Lewis chose a gown in light green with a matching coat, complementing accessories, and she also had a red rose, white carnations and baby's breath.

The reception, attended by 250 guests, was held at UAW Local 849 Hall in Ypsilanti.

Following the reception, the newlyweds motored south on their honeymoon.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will make their home in Belleville.

Son born on Easter to Evans'

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans Jr., of 8080 Wayne Rd., Romulus, are the parents of their first child, a son, born Easter Sunday, April 22, at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne.

The Easter baby was named Richard Layton Evans III, and he weighed 9 lbs., 5 1/2 oz. at birth.

The baby's mother is the former Joyce Ashley, and grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashley of Romulus, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans Sr., of Columbus, O.

Belleville Chapter 1135: Tuesday, May 8, will be the Mother and Daughter Banquet. Please bring a dish to share. It's going to be lots of fun, so let's have a good turnout, and don't forget your daughter.

There will be two meetings in a row in May, on the 14th and 21st. Also, May 14 is our Election for new officers, plus chapter night, so do get there early and then you can stay for the meeting.

Correction: Jetta Melville sponsored Betty Ostrowski instead of Jr. Regent Geraldine Mills. Sorry, Jetta! (As printed in last week's column.)

Two couples from the lodge were married in the last two weeks. They were Isbella Richards and Ted Barnley of 934, on April 13 in Romulus, and Betty Gohl to Donald Sharpe of 934 on April 24 in Belleville. Congratulations to them and best wishes for a long and happy life together.

Only four more weeks for the fish fries, so bring the family out for the night, Friday night. Servings are from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

August wedding planned

Announcement is made of the engagement of Evelyn Daleo to Mitchell Onley.

The future bride is the daughter of Florence Dobozy of 10989 Jackson Court, Belleville, and Paul Daleo of Ypsilanti.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Onley of 22047 Huron River Drive, New Boston. He is employed with DeVilbiss in Romulus.

Plans are being made for an August wedding.

Calamity Jane (Martha Jane Canary), famous and fiery pioneer character, is believed by some historians to have been a scout for Gen. George Custer.

Is it discrimination or your own choice?

If you're a woman and you're about to shout, "MCP" at your boss, (that means "male chauvinist pig" for those of you who aren't women's libbers) take a deep breath, sit down and consider this question: Are you discriminating against yourself? Mary P. Sharp, associate director of the Department of Human Relations at Michigan State University, has asked more than one woman that question. She is responsible for investigating complaints about discrimination based on either race or sex.

She's not trying to find an excuse to explain real discrimination that may exist, she's just trying to find out if in some instances, male chauvinism is being made the scapegoat of problems and situations it has nothing to do with.

"We as women have the obligation to accept the responsibility that is incumbent with the decisions we make," Mrs. Sharp told College of Human Ecology alumni last week.

THAT MEANS, she explains, that if a woman university instructor decides not to earn a doctorate degree, then she shouldn't charge sex discrimination when a financial squeeze forces the department chairman to let everyone without tenure go. She knew when she made that decision, Mrs. Sharp says, that she wouldn't be eligible for tenure.

While women must be responsible for the choices they make, Mrs. Sharp believes that the women's movement is making them more aware of the choices available.

MISS BAISCH

Sept. 4 nuptials planned

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Baisch of 305 Edison Ave., Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl Ann, to Kenneth L. Horste, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horste of 117 S. Biggs, Belleville.

The prospective bride is a 1971 graduate of Belleville High School. She is employed at Vesco's Supermarket in Romulus.

Her future bridegroom is a 1968 graduate of Belleville High School and a 1972 graduate of the University of Michigan. He is an engineer with the Ford Motor Company at the Ford Proving Grounds, Romulus.

The wedding is to take place Sept. 1 at the Lincoln Community Methodist Church.

Going to be away?

When planning prolonged absences:

Inform neighbors of your absence so they can be extra alert for suspicious persons. Leave a key with them so your place may be periodically inspected. Direct them to vary the positions of your shades and blinds.

Contact your local police division and inform them of your proposed absence, how long you will be gone, and where you can be reached. Special attention will be given to the premises while you are away.

If you find a door or window has been forced or broken while you were absent ... DO NOT ENTER.

The criminal still may be inside. Use a neighbor's phone immediately to summon police.

Do not touch anything or clean up if a crime has occurred. Preserve the scene until the police can inspect.

"I can't let it spoil."

Who do you think you're fooling?

Of course you can't let the leftovers just sit there. After all, in Europe, children are starving. And food prices are so high, it would be a crime—no, a sin—to waste it. But come on, the food's not even cold yet. A far cry from being spoiled. Well, when even you don't believe your corny excuses anymore, try listening to some of the doozies we've all used, at Weight Watchers. We'll make you look like an amateur.

You see, we understand how hard it is. We've shared the problems and frustrations. But most important, we've helped thousands of people get over them, and helped them learn a whole new way of eating.

So why not let us help you? Call us for the Weight Watchers class in your neighborhood. After all, we'd hate to see you spoil.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Much has been publicized in the past decade about youth. Their views and moods. Their behavior. Their alienation from regimentation; their rejection of respect for elders.

Adult dissatisfaction with youth dates back a long time. Socrates complained about the youth of his day in 400 B.C. ... This partial quote from an Assyrian tablet dated TWENTY FOUR HUNDRED YEARS PRIOR TO SOCRATES was inscribed ... "Children no longer behave pleasingly to their parents."

It is time for a long delayed question to be asked. "What percentage of all the youth in America are we hearing about?" The truth is that an overwhelming majority of our youth are NOT contributing to the sensational, bizarre antics of the FEW who make the headlines in our news media ... It is time to recognize the majority of our youth who are dedicated with energy, idealism, social and economic consciousness to bring about a better America in the years ahead ...

All Around the Town

'CLAN' GATHERS

The Frank Basnaw "clan" gathered for an early Easter dinner at the Bashaw home on Alden Drive on April 20.

Sharing the occasion were daughter Janet and her husband, Brian Boone of Ypsilanti; another daughter, Sandra McCurdy and son Richard, and her escort for the day, Dick Compton, all of Ypsilanti; and daughter Dianna, her husband, Frank, with Frankie and Sherril (the latter sporting a broken right arm!).

It seems that Dianna and Frank were the reason for the early Easter gathering. They left Sunday for a week in Las Vegas.

Another confusing holiday note was the fact that instead of the traditional Easter ham—Mrs. Basnaw prepared a turkey and all the trimmings for her family.

WEEKEND VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bies of 134 Carmell, Belleville, and daughter Kristin, along with Mrs. Dorothy Mason, also of Belleville, (their respective mother and grandmother) - plus the Ronald Masons of Wayne—were guests of the James Masons and son at their home at Vista Manor Estates in Traverse City over Easter weekend.

'SHOWERED'

Valerie Rohler of Belleville, who will marry Jake Glover of Plymouth on May 11, was guest of honor at a bridal shower held April 21 in Grand Rapids.

The shower was given by Mrs. Audrey McBride, cousin of the bride-elect, and 12 other cousins of the guest of honor and hostess were in attendance.

Now Mrs. David Sherwood Bridesmaids in red attend Miss Hogan

Four bridesmaids gownned in red attended Kathleen A. Hogan of Willis, at her marriage to David F. Sherwood of Belleville.

The Rev. Darius Wyszynski officiated the April 28 rite held at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Whitaker. Music for the ceremony was provided by Niky Nowak at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hogan of 9844 Willis Rd., Willis. She wore the same gown worn by her mother at her wedding 25 years ago. The gown, of ivory satin, was made with pearl-embroidered satin hearts applied on the sheer yoke of the long-sleeved, fitted bodice which tapered to a full skirt.

The bride's cathedral-length veil was trimmed with lace and secured by a headpiece of lace and satin roses, which also held a short blush veil in place. Daisies, pink roses, red carnations, blue hyacinths, baby's breath and daffodils formed her bouquet.

IN THE ROLE of honor attendant, Rosemary Mickevicius of Ann Arbor, wore a red satin gown made with a tucked bodice featuring ruffles at the neckline, on the sleeves and at the hemline. She carried a colonial bouquet composed of daisies, daffodils, red carnations, blue hyacinths, and baby's breath.

Her ensemble was duplicated for the bridesmaids. They were Sandra Carter of Ypsilanti; Carolyn Sherwood of Belleville, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Janet Knisley of Ypsilanti.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood of 20463 Sherwood Rd., Belleville, asked John Cunningham of Ypsilanti, to carry out the duties of best man. Groomsmen were Alan Hogan of Willis, brother of the bride; Tom Sherwood of Belleville, brother of the bridegroom, and Mike Hensley of Ypsilanti.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hogan chose a gown of yellow chiffon with jewel trim at neckline and cuffs of the long sleeves. She wore accessories to match and her corsage was of roses and daisies. Mrs. Sherwood selected a two-tone gown in white and melon, and her corsage was of roses.

THE RECEPTION in honor of the new Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood was held at the PNA Hall in Belleville, with some 300 guests in attendance.

The new Mrs. Sherwood graduated from Washtenaw Community College as a registered dental assistant and is employed at the University of Michigan in the Mobile Dental Clinic. Her bridegroom attended Washtenaw Community College and is employed at the Motor Wheel in Ypsilanti.

Auto Club bumpometer tells how rough roads really are

Just how bumpy Michigan roads actually are now can be determined by Automobile Club of Michigan which has built a "bumpometer" that records street roughness just like an electrocardiograph monitors heart activity.

The new electronic device is attached to an automobile rear wheel and driven along the road while a chart recorder inside the car prints a graph on a continuous tape. The tape, when deciphered by technicians, can tell if a street surface is smooth, reaching the repair stage or already in need of repair.

ALTHOUGH the chart recorder rests on the front seat with a driver and technician, the information it receives is electronically fed from a measuring device attached to the rear wheel.

As the rear wheel bounces over bumps, railroad tracks or in and out of potholes, a fender-mounted rheostat is activated by a steel rod extending from the wheel spindle. The rheostat sends an electronic message to the chart recorder on the front seat.

Once a stretch of road has been driven with the "bumpometer," Auto Club engineers and technicians can analyze the recorder tape and tell the condition of the surface traveled.

"The device is being tested on Detroit streets," states

Arthur C. Gibson, manager of Auto Club's safety and traffic engineering department which built the "bumpometer."

DETROIT is the second city in the nation to have its street surfaces electronically surveyed by this means. The device used is patterned after one built by the Automobile Club of New York

Traffic Engineering and Safety Services Department.

Michigan's "bumpometer" is now the only such device in existence since New York's has been retired from service.

Automobile Club of Michigan which began working on the device last fall spent $725 to build its

"bumpometer."

The chart recorder that produces the tape is the most expensive part, costing $550. An inverter is also used to change the 12 volt DC current from the cigarette lighter plug to 120 volt AC current needed to operate the recorder.

"WE CURRENTLY are testing the sensitivity of the device in Detroit on concrete and blacktop to see how readings are affected by type of road surface," Gibson states.

"In addition, we are testing the device at speeds from 25 to 55 miles per hour so that a bump index can be established for residential streets, state trunklines and freeways."

Gibson states that once a bump index is established, the device will be ready for use throughout the state.

Auto Club points out that the "bumpometer" will be used whenever its service is requested by an official group such as a city council or county road commission.

"Communities requesting the services of the 'bumpometer' will receive them from Auto Club as a public service," Gibson adds.

"A city that knows its roads need upgrading can use 'bumpometer' results to determine which streets are most in need of repair work and to help establish repair priorities."

"The 'bumpometer' is another engineering tool we will be able to employ when local governments call upon Auto Club with their traffic engineering problems," Gibson added.

Since 1930, Auto Club has conducted citywide surveys in over 200 Michigan communities as a public service.

Homeowners elect officers

The United Homeowners Association of Sumpter Township recently elected a new slate of officers.

The association's new president is Elmer Parraghi, former Sumpter Township supervisor.

Other officers elected at the association's April 24 meeting held in Sumpter Township are: Cecil Hall, vice president; Rose Cooper, secretary; Jean Sulkey, treasurer; Corrine Crimes, corresponding secretary; William Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

Members elected to the board of directors are: Marlin Green, Mable Berry, Dorothy Pearce, Marie Perkins, Geneva Caudill, Willie Holmes, Robert Cooper, Cynthia Holmes, Wilton Berry, Hattie Kirkendall, Amanda Roberts and Russell Skedgell.

The association's new slate of officers and directors will be sworn in at the May meeting of the association to be held May 28.

The world's first city to be lit entirely by electricity was Aurora, Ill., in 1882.

Students awarded trophies

Several Belleville area accordion students were presented with trophies and gold medals following participation in the recent Michigan Accordionists Association competition held at Cherry Hill High School in Inkster.

The students, members of the accordion instruction class of Mrs. Carolyn Bonanni of Belleville are:

Ted Wisniewski, who won a second place trophy; Bobby Zaszczurynski and Brenda Rise, who won third place trophies; Frank Lemanski and Jeff Collins, who received Outstanding Talent Award.

Others cited were Monica Stypelkoski and Lori Beagan, Lois Michaels, Michele Stypelkoski and Claudia Collins.

Ted Wisniewski, who is a member of the 4-H Hi-Flyers Club, recently won a blue ribbon, playing his accordion in a 4-H sponsored talent show at the Westland Mall.

Ted, Brenda, Lois and Lori all attend Belleville elementary schools. Frankie, Michele, Monica, Claudia and Jeff attend St. Anthony's Catholic School in Belleville and Bobby attends Lincoln Consolidated School.

Sound national energy policies recommended

Acknowledging that the energy problem faced by this country has reached the critical stage, a spokesman of a major oil company has called for sound national energy policies to keep up with increasing demands for oil and gas and for energy conservation both at home and at work.

In a speech before the Belleville Rotary Club, Jim Lowe, district manager, Detroit consumer-commercial district for Standard Oil Division of Amoco Oil Company, said a new national energy policy is needed if the petroleum industry is to cope with the current supply and demand imbalance.

Lowe told an audience of 35 persons that such a policy should be designed to meet the public's desire for both a cleaner, healthier environment and an ample supply of energy.

Illustrating his talk with color slides, Lowe pointed out that with only one-seventeenth of the world's population, Americans consume about one-third of the world's energy. And more than three-fourths of that energy is supplied by petroleum—43 per cent by oil and 33 percent by gas.

"The problem lies in the fact that by 1985, we'll be using energy at about double today's rate—and by 2000, the demand may well be three times what it is now," he stated. "Of this vastly expanded demand, oil and gas will still have to supply about 59 per cent."

"Everyone has a stake in helping to alleviate the energy crunch and averting even more serious crises in the future," he maintained.

"If everyone saves a little, no one will go without."

Psoriasis area chairman named

Cathy Grizzle of 16925 Vining Rd., Romulus, has been selected one of nine area chairmen of a Michigan chapter of the National Psoriasis Foundation now being formed.

The NPF of Michigan is a volunteer group, funded by people who have psoriasis.

It is a non-profit organization with a goal to provide moral support to other psoriatics, to obtain volunteers for clinical research, to exert legislative influence to obtain funds for research and also to raise funds privately for research in addition to educate the public about psoriasis.

For further information persons may call Patricia Horton, president of the NPF of Michigan at 483-1149.

Pallid house blooms at touch of color

There's one thing as bad as an overdecorated house exterior. An underdecorated one.

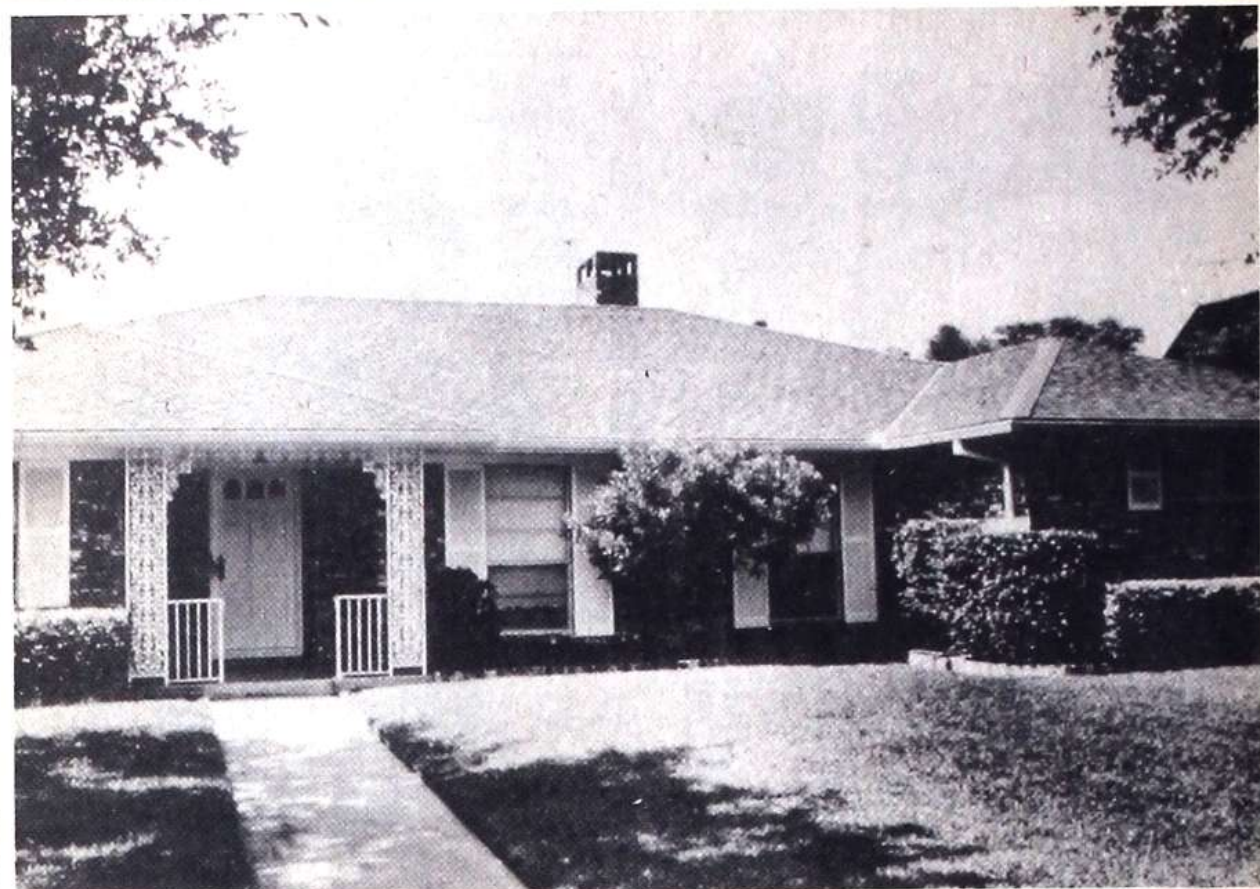

A house should make a strong statement — that is, have personality and individuality. But, it shouldn't overwhelm the viewer. On the other hand, a house shouldn't be so decorous that it's dull. A "heavyhanded" house sometimes results from the owner's attempt to individualize it with gaudy colors, gimcracks or decorative frills. A pallid-looking house can "happen" when the owner uses neutral colors that won't clash with the neighbors' homes.

Actually, color is a practical, economical and creative way to individualize and beautify a home. But, exterior color decoration requires forethought and good taste.

Heed these do's and don'ts: Do start color planning with the roof. The roof is usually the largest unbroken visual expanse, so its color will be obvious.

Also, roofs last a long time (premium grade asphalt shingles, for example, are designed to last up to 25 years) so roof color won't change very often.

Do pick a roof color you won't tire of, and one that will blend easily with changing siding and trim shades. Don't choose gaudy or "fad" colors for the roof.

EXTERIOR DECORATING — Color is an effective tool for exterior decorating. And roofs, usually the largest visual expanse, should set the tone. This premium-grade asphalt shingle roof in one of the new "earthtone" shades of brown blends naturally with brick sidewalks and coordinates home and site.

'Built-in' safeguards protect against fire

How fire-safe is your home? Most homeowners — careful not to overload electrical circuits, store combustible waste materials, or leave fireplaces unscreened — probably feel they have taken reasonable precautions.

Yet, there are basic fire-safety measures that should — literally — be built into a home to assure maximum safeguards against the threat of fire. One of the most important is use of fire-resistant roofing.

The National Fire Protection Association has, for years, urged enactment of community codes that prohibit use of readily combustible roofing.

An increasing number of communities do, in fact, require roofing that qualifies as fire-resistant. NFPA lists fire-resistant roofing as asphalt shingles, tile, slate, metal asbestos cement, asphalt roll roofing, and chemically-treated wood shingles.

Asphalt shingles have been classified by Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., for fire-resistance. These shingles have been laboratory tested for resistance to flame exposure, flame spread and flaming brands.

To educate homeowner

Guide gives info on roof

Start at the bottom to learn about what's on top! That's good advice for the homeowner or prospective homebuyer who is trying to decide on the right roof. To get your roofing education off the ground, there's a 16-page booklet available which offers a wealth of basic information.

It contains everything you need to know about roofing for new construction or remodeling.

Included is advice on selecting roofing material which bears the Underwriters'

Laboratory label for fire-resistance.

One section deals with the selection of a roofing contractor; another gives "tips" on roof care.

There's even a comprehensive asphalt shingle color guide to help with "exterior decorating." To obtain a copy of "A Homeowner's Guide to the Selection of Quality Roofing" and learn about roofing from "bottom to top," send 25 cents to SR&A, Box 3202, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y.

One imaginatively conceived remodeling project worked two wonders for this house.

Enclosure of an unused porch created a sparkling and spacious foyer (right) and also enhanced the house exterior (above).

Highlight of the remodeling was use of a ponderosa pine double entry. The duplicate wood panel doors, with their rich, sculptured lines, add visual depth — and actual breadth — inside and out.

Home gains spacious foyer when porch moves indoors

Got an unwanted porch? Need a foyer? You can "kill" both birds with one remodeling project.

That's what one family did when they turned an unused 7-by-14-foot porch into a spacious, useful foyer. The transformation gave them a handsome new house entrance, a more charming interior and an improved traffic pattern.

The original front entry of the home in Portland, Ore., was an ordinary front door that opened directly into the living room. One of the most visually effective changes was use of two cross-and-bible wood panel doors of ponderosa pine to create an impressive, new double-entry.

First step in the remodeling

Shutters beautify

Today there's a cosmetic for almost everything — even your house. So, if your home looks old and drab before its time, try this quick and easy "beauty treatment."

By simply adding wood shutters your home can take on a whole "new look."

You can choose from panel or louver styles of ponderosa pine shutters which blend with any architecture.

The shutters can be varnished or stained, or painted to complement or contrast with the exterior color scheme.

Available from your local lumber dealer, wood shutters come in a variety of stock sizes to fit almost any window. Door length shutters — to enhance your home's entryway — are also available.

Both are ready-to-paint and easily installed.

was enclosing the porch. The heavy work — raising walls, leveling floors, pouring a 5 by 7 foot stoop — was handled by a contractor. Insulation was added in exterior walls; gypsum board installed on interior walls and ceiling. A warm air duct, extended from the attic to a ceiling outlet, provided heat.

The family applied the finishing touches — painting, wallpapering, decorating. Three of the walls are wainscotted to chairback height; the fourth is painted brick.

Dark, flagstone-effect flooring reiterates the brick's natural look. Louvered interior window shutters pick up the rich wood look and sculptured lines set by the ponderosa pine panel doors. The shutters and doors are stock items available at local lumber dealers.

Since a spacious, open feeling was desired for the foyer, furnishings are minimal — a small, empire table and a love seat, greenery and memorabilia. A traditional, taper-bulb chandelier lights up the sparkling transformation.

Creation of the foyer carried a bonus for the family. It upgraded their home's potential resale value, making the remodeling a significant two-for-one fact.

Don't skimp on quality when remodeling

Almost 40 million homeowners will improve their homes this year. Most of them will be on remodeling budgets. Many will try to shave costs — sometimes through "false" economies. With labor charges continually rising, work that homeowners do themselves can represent substantial savings.

But, before they get started, do-it-yourselfers should be sure they have the time, patience and whatever degree of skill is needed for the project.

It can cost more to have a professional undo an amateur's mistakes than to call in a pro at the start.

Some jobs — roofing, for example — should not be attempted by amateurs. Shingle application requires particular skills, and working on a rooftop can be dangerous. A reputable contractor is well worth the cost.

Low-quality materials are hardly ever the place to save money. "Cheap is dear" if materials don't hold up, must be quickly repaired or replaced, or make the whole job look tacky.

Generally, labor charges run about the same, regardless of the materials' cost. And, the higher cost of quality materials often can be amortized over their longer life expectancy.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Avoid getting stirred up about a property matter today, otherwise a bitter argument is possible. Analyze where you stand financially and think of the most practical ways to overcome handicaps. Don't consult experts at this time.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Although you may feel a financial lack, take no chances with unwise investments. Stick to the accepted methods and all works out fine. Do nothing unwise emotionally. Relax tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't get into an argument with one you think is deterring you from gaining personal aims, since you could be in error. A day to exercise much self-control. Stop being so demanding with others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Although you feel imposed upon, don't get into arguments or matters could get worse. Being alert to conditions around you could prevent an unfortunate happening. Take it easy tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Steer clear of those friends who don't see eye to eye with one another, or you could get caught in the middle of an unpleasant situation. Don't become involved in an argument.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Take no risks where your good name is concerned and take no chances with debating in public. Political involvement is not good now, since others are arguing too much. Engage in your hobby.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study new thoughts and ideas that are progressive, but don't give up present methods. Study every angle for possible use in the future. Avoid one who gossips too much. Be calm.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Not a good day to talk over monetary affairs with others, but tomorrow is fine. Avoid the possibility of getting into arguments. Come to a better understanding with mate in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Although an associate is difficult, don't lose your temper or there could be added trouble. Get those promises of a public nature handled properly. Do nothing that could hurt others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You find that some co-workers are not in a good mood, but don't upbraid them. Try not to work so hard that your health is endangered. Be moderate in all that you do today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can have fun but it is important that you stay within your budget or you could regret it later. Your mate is in a bad mood, so try to be more cooperative. Think constructively.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try not to do anything that could upset others at home or there could be a big argument there. A social affair should be postponed until a better time. Do some studying tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Much care in motion is important or you could get into trouble. Think before you speak. Show that you are peaceful, kind and gentle with others. Avoid one who is a terrible gossip.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who likes to argue. At an early age teach to work with hands and read more so this excessive energy is properly channelled. Self-discipline should be taught early, or your youngster could go off on tangents that could lead to trouble. Give as much religious training as you can. Sports will be helpful.

★ RENT A YOUTH ★

As a citizen and taxpayer, certainly you are interested in the development of the youth in your community. Communities United For Action, Inc., Wayne County's Anti-Poverty Program, is sponsoring a project known as "RENT A YOUTH". This project is designed to stimulate employment and a sense of responsibility among young people. If you have tasks to be performed or any odd jobs, call for more information.

Medical research breaks disease detection grounds

Medical research continues to break new ground in disease detection through genetics.

One blood serum test, for example, now can help predict, even in infancy, which individuals will run a very high risk of developing emphysema in later life. The test — developed by Dr. Jack Lieberman at the University of California — can uncover the predisposition to the disease as many as 40 or 50 years before any symptoms would appear.

The test detects a genetic factor, a deficiency in the blood, which makes it far more likely that the person will develop emphysema. There is no known cure for emphysema, although doctors can prescribe ways to help patients live easier with the severe lung disease. Prevention is of major importance.

Emphysema is the fastest growing cause of death in the United States today. The major cause is years of heavy cigarette smoking. While the genetic deficiency represents only a tiny percentage of emphysema patients, the risk is extremely high that they will develop the disease if they smoke.

Other new tests can spot diseases in the early stages. Special bicycle tests have detected coronary artery disease before any symptoms were obvious in routine physical exams.

And infrared photography — which can measure how fast a patient's forehead returns to normal temperature after it has been cooled first — is being used to find out if key arteries to the brain have become narrowed, thus predisposing the person to stroke.

Cigarette smoking constricts blood vessels.

One of the first priorities for patients with early symptoms of lung and heart disease is to stop smoking. Even one puff on a cigarette seriously disrupts the flow of blood and air through the lungs and heart.

Fee waived for church

A request to waive the cost of a building permit for the proposed new building of the Belleville Assembly of God, located at 870 Savage Rd., Belleville, has been approved by the Van Buren Township Board.

The building permit fee would have amounted to $284.

The board also approved a kennel license renewal for Thomas Mitchell, 46314 Chatsworth St., Belleville, where the kennel is located.

Dog license

Van Buren Township dog owners were again reminded Monday by Township

Treasurer Ralph Hedman that effective May 1 the fee for all 1973 dog licenses will be $3 until June 14, the deadline for procuring 1973 licenses.

Lt. Frank Kudla and Cadet Sgt. Mark Michaels, all but Lt. Kudla are from Belleville. The Civil Air Patrol has organized a cadet unit in Belleville. CAP cadets participate in many field trips and programs.

New CAP unit plans open house on Friday

Four tellers seek sponsors for 'Walk'

Four tellers at the Belleville branch of Bank of the Commonwealth plan to walk in the Sunday, May 6, 17-mile Walkathon at Belle Isle.

The event will benefit the March of Dimes.

The four are Linda Albertson, Kathy McDonald, Sylvia Simon and Marilyn Clark. They are looking for sponsors.

A sponsor has to pledge at least 10 cents a mile walked by a participant. All money collected goes to the charity.

Sponsors who wish to pledge money may do so by filling out forms available at the bank.

For the past six years the City of Belleville has been without its own Civil Air Patrol unit. That is now being changed with the establishment of the Belleville Cadet Squadron, a sub-unit of the Detroit Metropolitan Group which includes the Belleville area.

The first meeting with CAP personnel for Belleville residents will be Friday, May 4. The Civil Air Patrol will hold an open house at South Junior High School in Belleville from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Featured will be standing displays about the CAP cadet program, a slide talk on what the cadet program has to offer our teen-agers, and several types of literature on the Civil Air Patrol.

Several movies have also been ordered for the evening. One, in color, depicts the Cadet Flying Encampment, offered free to CAP cadet members and at which they are taught to fly. Another film covers the International Air Cadet Exchange, another program offered to cadets.

In the exchange, teen-age CAP members are flown to a foreign country for a month for tours, education, recreation and meeting people.

A number of community leaders have expressed both interest in and enthusiasm for the Belleville CAP Squadron.

In an interview with Lt. Col. Alan R. Creighton, group commander for the western Wayne County area, Mayor Royce E. Smith commented, "The Civil Air Patrol is one of the finest community service organizations in existence today. Their cadet program offers unparalleled opportunities to the youth of Belleville for adventure, excitement and education as well as service to their community and nation." Mayor Smith was a member of CAP himself from 1947-1949.

T.F. Kuckelman, executive secretary of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, enthusiastically endorsed the founding of a local unit of the Civil Air Patrol as another example of growth and progress for the Belleville community.

The cadet program, open for boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 17, offers a balanced program of aerospace education, leadership training and activities to its members.

Aerospace education includes such topics as the history of aviation and the development of the space program, and a major portion of the private pilot's study navigation, weather, basic theories of flight, electronics, airport operation and aircraft power plants.

As with many portions of the program, study is conducted mainly as self-study, with conferences with CAP aerospace education counselors on an individual basis to supplement the textbook.

CAP cadets work at their own pace and may take as long as they wish to complete one portion of the program before proceeding to the next.

Several types of leadership training are required by the program for its cadet members. One type is military leadership.

The squadron is organized as a military unit, with cadets working their way from new recruit to positions of responsibility and command. Each cadet progresses at his or her own rate.

Moral leadership is provided through monthly meetings conducted by the squadron chaplain, an ordained minister, priest or rabbi.

Cadets discuss many of the issues of deep concern to today's youth, and no attempt is made to force preconceived solutions or ready-made answers upon the cadets. Instead, each is encouraged to reach his own or her own conclusions based on the dictates of conscience and their own moral upbringing.

Many special activities are provided for CAP cadets as a regular part of the program. In addition to IACE and the Flying Encampment cadets may take rocket and missile orientation in Texas, Federal Aviation Agency Orientation in Oklahoma City, or attend the National Cadet Leadership School in Alabama.

Locally, quite a number of activities are provided. The parent unit of the Belleville Cadet Squadron, the Detroit Metropolitan Group provides field trips to Cape Kennedy, Washington D.C., and the USAF Museum at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Cadets attend a squadron meeting once a week. In Belleville, the CAP unit will meet Thursdays from 7 until 9:30 p.m. In addition, most special activities are held on the weekend.

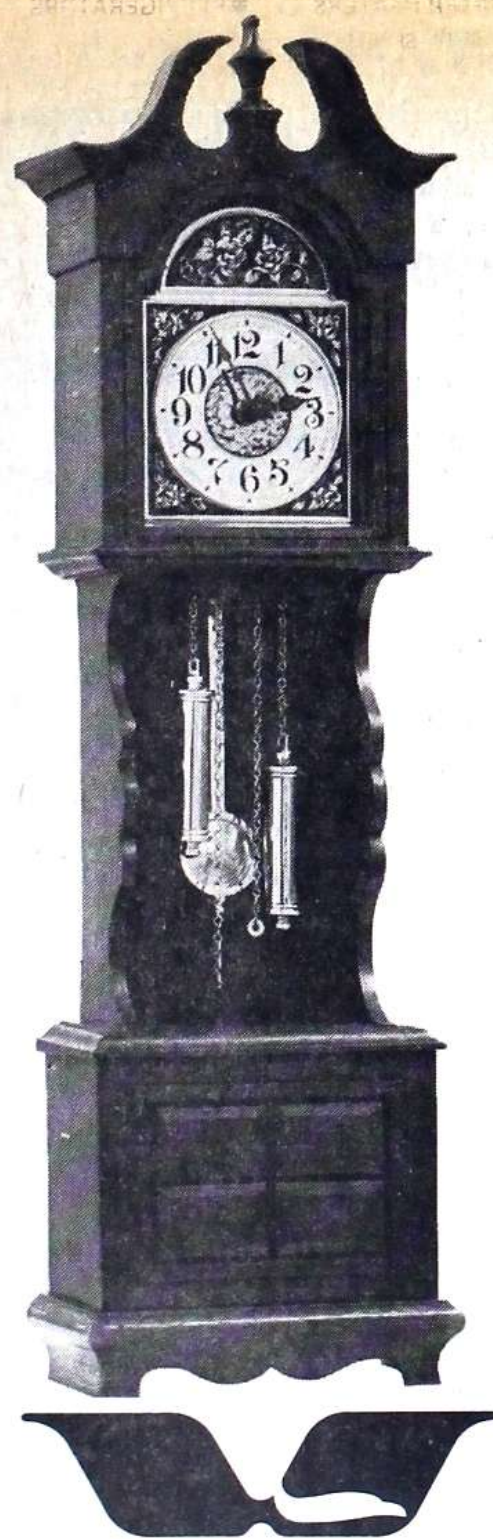

CAP cadets wear the uniform of the United States Air Force, with CAP insignia added, a privilege granted to CAP by the United States Congress in recognition of CAP as the official auxiliary of the USAF.

'Free mechanic' plan announced

Atchinson Ford Sales, Inc. has initiated a new program in the sale of new cars.

In line with the firm's statement, "It's about time a car dealer delivered more than just a car," Atchinson Ford Sales is offering what Kurt Atchinson, manager, calls a "free mechanic" with every new car the firm sells for the first year of the car's operation by the owner.

Atchinson is reported to be the first automotive dealer in the area to embark on such a program.

The program is the results of a two-year program-survey on determining what car buyers were looking for when buying a car.

The "free mechanic" program, according to the company, provides that the new car purchased is guaranteed from "door to door, bumper to bumper for the first year, or 12,000 miles that the owner has it.

Mechanical service is free, according to the company's copyrighted Free Mechanic Warranty. It covers many small things that go wrong with new cars, such as a defective door latch (subject to the conditions of the factory warranty).

In addition to the Free Mechanic Warranty, the new car owner gets a 15 per cent parts and labor discount for two subsequent years.

Car wash set by boy scouts

Boy Scout Troop 231 sponsored by the Trinity Episcopal Church in Belleville will hold a car wash from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday on the church grounds.

Proceeds will go toward financing a trip by troop members to Alaska in July. The Mothers Auxiliary for the troop will have a garage sale Saturday, May 12, on Harmony Lane.

Signs will be posted designating where the sale will be held.

He joined the Marine Corps in September, 1971.

Romulus High Senior Choir event May 11

The Romulus High School Choir will present another and third presentation of "Finian's Rainbow," at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 11, in the high school auditorium, 9650 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus.

In last week's issue of this newspaper it was inadvertently reported that the presentation of "Finian's Rainbow" was to be presented last Wednesday.

The musical, the high school's first in the last eight years, is being presented again because of "popular demand."

The comedy with well-known hit tunes was presented in the auditorium on April 13 and 14.

Babies born undersized have life-time of problems

Babies, born undersized and underweight, can have a life time of problems.

A study of 17,000 British children, all born in the same week, showed that newborns who were "small for date" had more educational and behavioral problems in later life compared with those of normal birth weight. At age seven, youngsters who were undersized infants had poorer social adjustments in the family and school.

Dr. Nevil Butler of the University of Bristol now is completing further studies of these 17,000 youngsters at age 11.

According to Dr. Butler, one of the major factors influencing the size of the newborn was cigarette smoking by the pregnant women. The crucial period in the pregnancy was the last five months.

There was no difference in low-weight babies and stillbirths between women who did not smoke and women who smoked for the first four months.

However, if women continued smoking for the last five months there was a significant difference in the number of undersized infants as well as babies born dead.

Van Buren zoning items on agenda

The Van Buren Township Zoning Board of Appeals will review and rule on seven agenda items relative to provisions of the township zoning ordinance at 8 p.m. May 3 at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

The items pertain to appeals, variances or special approvals and include the following:

Elizabeth, Wellard, 42871 Riggs Rd., Belleville, seeks approval to conduct a ceramic business in her home.

Roy W. McLeod, 13255 Lake Pointe Pass, Belleville, is requesting permission to build an addition on home exceeding clearance requirements.

Orville McGlone, 50778 E.

Michigan Blvd., Van Buren Township, is requesting approval to remodel the inside of existing building.

Scott Manufacturing Co., 24315 Northwestern Rd., Southfield, seeks permission for a sign permit.

A request for a zoning change to store new trailers filed by Dewey Harvey, 1631 E. Michigan, Ypsilanti, will also be considered.

Kenneth and Sandra Askew, 50951 Expressway, Belleville, seeks approval to move non-conforming dwelling to residence zone commercial. Angela and Keith Jacobs, 44952 Robson Blvd., Belleville, are seeking approval to continue storing six unlicensed vehicles.

Families of sewer victims honored

The families of three city employees who died in a sewer repair mishap last May were honored by the Romulus City Council at the April 24 City Council meeting.

Council President Jimmie C. Raspberry presented the families of Charles Claxton, Felix Ginski and William Hardrick with plaques.

The three died in a mishap last May 18 when Ginski was caught in a sanitary sewer and overcome by gases. The other two had gone to his aid.

Following the presentation, Mrs. Ginski thanked the families of the other two men for coming to the aid of her husband.

Plaques were presented to the families shortly after the accident occurred last May.

Newcomer is 'team to watch'

10 teams eye Relays title

By DALE GOWING

A strong field of 10 teams is gearing for next Tuesday's running of the 14th Annual Western Wayne Relays, and at least three schools threaten to unseat defending champion Livonia Franklin, including newcomer Livonia Churchill.

Co-sponsored by Belleville High School and Associated Newspapers, Inc., the Relays will begin at 5:30 on the Belleville track.

Schedule conflicts have taken their toll on the Relays' entry field this year, eliminating Garden City East and West, Cherry Hill and Taylor Center from competition.

Churchill, has been added to the pack, however.

BELLEVILLE Athletic Director and Coordinator of the Relays, Harry Hidenfelter, anticipates a strong run at the team championship by both Wayne-Memorial and Dearborn Heights Robichaud, which finished second and fourth, respectively, in last year's meet.

"The weather has been so poor that actually it's difficult to say who's going to be the threats," admitted Hidenfelter, "but from current results it looks like Wayne and Robichaud are real strong."

"Westland John Glenn could be in there too," he said.

Two records were set or tied last year, as Belleville clocked its four-mile relay team at 18:39.6, and Livonia Franklin's three-man pole vault squad tied Livonia Bentley's 1966 jumps of 35-feet.

The entire 10-team field includes: Belleville (host), Inkster, Romulus, John TARGET: STRIKE ZONE — Romulus' Kurt Lenderman unleashes one of his pitches in Monday's confrontation with nonleague rival Inkster. The Eagle hurler lost his bid for a victory when Inkster rallied for two runs in the third inning to claim a 3-1 victory.

Foreman:
A success story

By TOM MOORADIAN

Some people you remember because of how they look; others, because of what they said -- or didn't say - while still others for what they have contributed or taken away from humanity.

But I think I will always remember George Foreman, the reigning heavyweight boxing champion of the world, for the little dance he did in the ring after winning a TKO over Soviet heavyweight Ionnis Chepulis in 1968 at the Olympics in Mexico City.

That dance, I, and many of my colleagues had interpreted symbolic of "black power."

"Not so," says Foreman recently.

"There were more than 2,000 black athletes in those Olympic Games in all sports. I was afraid - even with the USA on my jersey - they might not know I was an American. And I wanted everybody to know, and to know that at that moment I was one of the happiest Americans who ever lived. So, I took the little American flag from the pocket of my robe, and waved it as I took a bow to each of the ring's four corners.

"What never occurred to me then was that this little thing I did would be translated into an opposing view to be the "black power" fever which was so much a part of that Olympics. It wasn't that at all. If that other way was how John Carlos and Tommy Smith felt - well, the America I came from is a free country, and they were entitled to do or say what they felt or thought.

"I was so proud, I was just doing what came naturally to me. I was my "thing" and thank God, it is still my, "thing", Foreman revealed.

It doesn't take a child long in life in know that sometimes what he does or doesn't do is interpreted in a variety of ways by those who receive the message.

And, in sports equally so. One must be clear - to make his point - be that in sports, journalism or whatever profession.

"If there is give and take in life," continued Foreman, "and I know for sure there is, and some of it rough stuff, a man has to find out early in his life how much of each he has capacity for.

"I found out early, though, that you don't get much of anywhere by knocking success. The really smart guy tries to find out why it works, and how he can get in that kind of action, and then tries to make it work for him," added the champ.

Foreman's success story wasn't written overnight, as many think it was. It's full of frustrations, deep anxieties, torment and even on the eve of the greatest fight in his life - against Joe Frazier - Foreman was about to back down.

Advice from a close friend, no, not close, but an "honest friend" - enabled Foreman to clear his head of his problems and prepare mentally for Frazier. The rest is sports history - Foreman knocked Frazier down six times and in the Second round the refs awarded the fight to Foreman.

At the end of each success or failure, there is always another door to be opened and what lies beyond is determined by the steps we take today.

RALLY ROUSER — Getting wood on the ball is Romulus' Larry Hale whose sixth inning single ignited a one-run rally against Inkster. However, it wasn't enough as the Eagles committed six costly errors Monday which led to a 3-1 defeat. Coach Bill Cuhran's ball club will be home tomorrow to area rival, Belleville.

Romulus is seesawing on .500 baseball mark

Romulus can't seem to hold on to a .500 mark and stay there in baseball.

Coach Bill Cuhran's Eagles, who carved out a 3-2 eighth inning victory over River Rouge last week to win their fourth in eight starts, dipped to 4-5 on the season when Robichaud rallied Friday in the last of the seventh to take a 7-6 decision.

"Just when I feel we're going to put it all together," said Cuhran, "we being falling apart. These kids can play outstanding ball if they want to. And I'm just hoping we can get out all of the kinks before the district tournaments begin."

Steve Pollard, who went all the way and scattered two hits earned the victory against Rouge. He struck out nine and walked five. Tom Aszewski took the loss, giving up 11 hits while fanning eight and walking two.

Huron makes move

Toss out Friday's 13-7 slugfest with Blissfield and New Boston Huron looked like champs last week.

That's the word from Ron Smith, head baseball coach, whose team won four out of five games to even up its Huron Conference record at 3-3 and its over-all mark at 4-5 on the season.

"We made four costly errors and about eight mental ones against Blissfield," said Smith. "We also let the ump get to us and the boys stopped playing baseball."

Jamie Hinojosa, who started for the Chiefs, worked the first five innings and gave up nine hits and 13 runs. He struck out four and also walked four in taking the loss.

HINOJOSA SWATTED three for four, including a single, double and triple to pace the Chiefs at the plate. He also had one run batted in. Brother Tim collected two singles in four trips to the plate.

In other games, Huron blanked league rival Tecumseh 2-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Ken DeLane and won a 6-2 decision from Monroe Catholic Central while splitting a twin bill against Riverview Gabriel Richard. Huron lost the opener 3-2

Gooden sets pole vault record

The Easter Vacation took its toll of Romulus trackmen last week as Coach Jesse Meriweather had only a handful of his thinclads show up for their meet against Class B powerhouse Riverview.

And with 10 men competing against the downriver power, the Eagles fell 101-31.

However, Romulus' "one-man" team Daryl Gooden set a school record in the pole vault when he orbited 12 feet, 6 inches to pick up one of the four Romulus first places.

Daryl also won the shot put

Cranbrook to host junior high netters

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — More than 125 junior high school boys and girls are expected to enter singles tennis tournaments to be held at two Cranbrook Schools May 5.

More than 80 boys are expected to register at 9 a.m. May 5 for the seventh annual tournament sponsored by the Cranbrook Tennis Club at the Cranbrook School courts, 550 Lone Pine in Bloomfield Hills.

The girls tournament, now in its second year, should have 45 or more entrants in the tournament at Kingswood School Cranbrook, 885 Cranbrook Road, Bloomfield Hills. Registration time is 9 a.m.

COMPETITION on seventh, eighth and ninth grade levels will consist of a pro set of eight games, with the winner required to have a two-game margin. Entry fee is two new tennis balls of championship quality.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up in each flight.

If inclement weather forces postponement, both tournaments will be scheduled for Sunday, May 6.

Further information on the boys tournament can be obtained by telephoning evenings Hugh Davison, 644-3955 Harriet Secrest, 646-5877, has full information of the girls tournament.

SAFE AT FIRST — A step ahead of the throw to Inkster's first baseman Henry Moses is Romulus' Steve Pollard who beat out a grounder to get aboard. However, it was a case of not enough hits at the right time as the Eagles bowed to the visitors 3-1 in a nonleague contest.

Huron wins 4 of 5

DeLano was in command all the way against Tecumseh, striking out seven while walking one. His mates got what proved to be enough to win in the first inning with one away.

JAMIE HINOJOSA singled, stole second and went to third on Chuck Pearson's infield single. While the ump and Tecumseh's first baseman argued over a controversial call at first, Hinojosa sneaked home for the first run. Then, Dana Kemp grounded to third who booted the ball, Pearson stopping at third.

Mario Gracia then singled home the second and the final run of the ball game.

Hinojosa missed a shutout when he gave up two runs in the seventh inning against Monroe Catholic Central. Scattering five hits, the Huron hurler picked up his second victory in five league starts. Jamie struck out 11 and walked one.

Huron put one run on the scoreboard in the second-inning, exploded for three more in the third and added two in the fourth.

In the second, Kemp belted a single and then stole second. A passed ball moved him to third where he scored on Gracia's base hit. The Chiefs made it a 4-0 ball game in the third when Doak Toth and Larry Hartstuff drew walks and moved up when Hinojosa was safe on an error.

With the bases loaded, Pearson sacrificed, scoring one run. After Kemp also popped up, Gracia connected for a two-run single.

IN THE FOURTH DeLano walked, was erased at second on Gary Whitehouse's fielder's choice. Toth was safe on an error, and a wild pitch scored the run. Hartstuff walked and so did Pearson.

With the bases loaded Monroe's catcher was called for interference, while Kemp was at the plate and the second run scored.

DeLano was the victim of the 3-2 game against Gabriel Richard. He worked the first five innings before stepping aside for sophomore Wynn Kryzsko who pitched one inning, yielding to Hinojosa who finished up.

Richard scored all of its runs in the second and third frames and Huron waited until the bottom of the sixth to get its first on a single by Kemp and sacrifice and a single by Toth. Kemp managed to steal home for the run.

In the seventh, Hinojosa reached second when the outfielder dropped a routine fly ball. He stole second and an infield out scored him.

Huron's bats came alive in the nightcap as Jamie Hinojosa belted three for four, including four RBI's; Gracia had two for five and a pair of runs batted in while Kemp stroked three hits in five appearances at the plate. DeLano also accounted for two RBI's for his two singles in three trips.

Pearson's double was the only extra base hit off of Gabriel Richard pitching in the second game.

Kemp, who gave up one hit for five innings, was the winning pitcher. He was relieved by Pearson who was tagged for two hits and a run before leaving the mound in the seventh for Whitehouse.

Inkster soph sets pace in hurdles

Ed Poindexter is only a sophomore, but the 15-year-old Inkster High athlete has already carved for himself a niche in the coveted All-Area circles.

Poindexter has taken over as the top hurdler in the area virtue of his performances last week. He has been clocked in 15.1 for the highs and also clocked in 20.4 for the lows.

Last year's best area time in the lows was a 19.7 while the state record is 19.0.

"POINDEXTER works hard at anything he does," said Inkster Coach Gary Powers. "He has the potential of developing into one of the best all-around athletes in the state."

Poindexter also moved to the top of the listing in the long jump. He leaped 22 feet, 1 1/4 inches to come within inches of topping last year's best of 22 feet, 4 inches. The state long jump record is 23 feet, 11 inches.

TIMES and performances were also bettered by area trackmen in other events. Five athletes have tossed the shot over the 50 foot marker.

The area listing is compiled by Jerry Szukaitis, assistant track coach at Westland John Glenn and coaches are requested to contact Coach Szukaitis at 728-4630 in order to list a time or performance.

Bath Tub Derby set for May 12

The Huron Valley Youth for Christ will sponsor its first annual Bath Tub Derby in the parking lot of the Ann Arbor Pioneer High School, Ann Arbor, Saturday, May 12.

Plans for the day include an afternoon of bathtub competition, dinner and a musical concert in the evening. Trophies will be awarded in such areas as creativity and originality in decorating the tubs, as well as for the winners of the races for those tubs with wheels.

The races will include fastest tub race, endurance race, and a powder-puff race. Also, a bathtub stuff will be featured to see who can get the most people into one tub.

The Bath Tub Derby is open to any youth groups from churches and civic organizations or just interested groups of teens who wish to participate.

Teens must find their own tubs, decorate as they wish, put wheels on the tubs if they want to race, and find a way to move the tubs to Pioneer High on May 12.

The derby will begin at 2 and run until 6 p.m. Entry fee per tub is $5. The cost per individual is $1 for the afternoon, or $2.50 for the entire day's activities, including dinner from 6 to 7 and the concert beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Registrations for tubs must be sent or called in to Huron Valley Youth for Christ no later than May 10. The registration fee may be paid on the day of the derby.

Pvt. Huckleberry plays at Concept

In its continuing series of original black theater productions, Concept East Theatre presents "Pvt. Huckleberry" by Demon Smith.

"Pvt. Huckleberry" opened Friday and will run every Friday through Sunday at 8:30 p.m. through May 13. Tickets are $2.50.

"Pvt. Huckleberry" is a war fable of disillusionment and despair. The drama depicts the struggle of a black soldier in his quest for life. Huckleberry, was badly wounded on the battlefield in Vietnam, turns to drugs to ease his pain only to have his eyes opened to an even greater pain; the pains of "truth" and "reality."

"Pvt. Huckleberry" is an attempt to take us to the actual battle zone and put to us the same questions that ultimately caused the death of Pvt. Huckleberry.

Demon, while working with Concept East, served as an actor in the theater repertory, and instructor of playwriting in the theater workshop. He is presently producer-director of the Afro-Centric Theatre Company, instructor of Black Theatre History at Wayne County Community College, and works as writer-announcer with the "For My People" television program broadcast on Channel 56 on Sunday nights.

For more information persons may call 875-3150 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The theater is at 60 E. Harper Ave., Detroit.

'Stately Dinner' $30 per person

Kicking-off Michigan Week festivities in the Detroit metropolitan area is a Michigan celebration at Oakland University Meadow Brook Hall, Friday evening May 18.

A Stately Dinner in honor of Michigan Week features tastings of four new premium Michigan wines during the cocktail hour and all-Michigan foods served with fine French wines for the 8-course dinner. Following the 2½-hour feast Michigan's best barbershop quartet, the Northern Hi-Lites, harmonize on Michigan songs.

The wine tasting includes four of Michigan's finest wines; Warner Brut Champagne from Michigan Wineries, Inc., Bronte's Sister Lake Chablis and Boco-Noir; and Trebiano from Tabor Hills Vineyards.

Michigan foods on the menu appear as puree of creamy potato soup, jellied smoked loin of pork, fresh whitefish florentine with hollandaise sauce, liquered cantaloupe melon cup, filet of tenderloin steak served on corn bread accompanied by stuffed green pepper with roebuck sauce, Pinconning cheese balls, MacIntosh apple beignet with rhubarb sauce, and cherry cheese cake.

Rendering the barbershop harmony are Lee Hanson and Dave Caldwell of Birmingham, Bob Demchak of Warren and Bob Wisdom of Detroit.

The Stately Dinners, sponsored by the university Division of Continuing Education, are open to the public by reservation only, ($30 per person).

Michigan Week representatives attending include Leona Weeks, executive director of the Greater Michigan Foundation, and James E. Glynn director of public relations for National Bank of Detroit, and this year's regional area chairman for Michigan Week.

Morgan horse essay contest announced

Lignum, Va., an essay contest for youths on the topic "The Morgan Horse" with prizes totaling more than $1,500 has been announced by Rapidan River Farm of Lignum, Va., one of the nation's leading Morgan horse breeders.

The contest, open to all who are now 17 or under was originated in order to increase national recognition for the Morgan horse breed.

The breed originated in New England. Its origin is attributed to a New England music teacher, Justin Morgan.

Sponsors for the essay contest, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hagan, owners of Rapidan River Farm, say they hope for a large response in entries.

"WE ARE PROUD of our distinguished roster of judges," Hagan said. "They represent a national cross-section of breeders and educators who are some of the nation's leading Morgan horse authorities."

The judges are: Mrs. Roger Ela, owner of Townshend Farm (Massachusetts); Mrs. Roger Heerzog of Windy Hill Farms (Virginia); Dr. Donald Balch, head of Animal Sciences Department at the University of Vermont; Mrs. John G. Bee of Matilija Morgans (California); Mrs.

John Sommerville of Pine Hill (New York) and Mrs. Jack Muse of Pegasus Morgan Farm (Colorado).

Winners will be announced at the Grand National Morgan Horse Show at Detroit Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

All a person need do to enter the contest is prepare an original essay on The Morgan Horse. The essay should be composed in 1,000 words or less and preferably typewritten. All entries will be judged as to content, originality, neatness and format.

An additional requisite for entry is the contestant must visit a Morgan horse farm, a breeder of Morgan horses or Morgan horse owner or attend a Morgan Horse Association local meeting. Entries must be accompanied by a note signed by the breeder, owner or club secretary to qualify.

The additional requirement according to Hagan is to assure that the entrant will get first hand knowledge about Morgan horses in addition to whatever material they gather from texts.

First prize is $500, second prize is $300, third prize is $250, fourth prize is $100, fifth prize is $50, and more than 50 honorable mention winners will receive a subscription to the Morgan Horse magazine. Winning entries submitted by junior members of the American Morgan Horse Association will be awarded additional cash prizes. Membership details are included in entry forms available at the following address.

Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight August 31, 1973. No entries will be returned, and all entries become the property of Rapidan River Farm. Winning entries may be reprinted for public distribution.

Mail Essay Entries to: Essay Contest, Rapidan River Farm, Box 45, Lignum, Va. 22726

To fulfill the requirement of personal contact with the owner or breeder of Morgan horses, persons may contact: Eddie Earehart, 9666 Chubb Rd., Northville, Mich.

Indian legends revived

The Canadian Puppet Festivals of Toronto will recreate three North American Indian legends in "Puppet Pow-Wow" Saturday, May 12, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the Detroit Institute of Arts Youtheatre.

Recommended for 7- to 12-year-olds, "Puppet Pow-Wow" recalls "How Raven Gave Light to the World" with hand and rod puppets in the traditional totem story form of the Northwest.

Leaders in puppetry for more than 20 years, the Canadian Puppet Festivals have performed in Canadian and U.S. schools, theaters and television, gaining a wide audience for this entertaining art form. The group was chosen to represent puppetry for six months at Expo '67 in Montreal.

Tickets for "Puppet Pow-Wow" are $1.50 (groups of 10 or more, $1 each) at the Detroit Institute of Arts ticket office. Special for this show is one-third off the ticket price for all boys and girls (or adults) wearing Indian costumes. For further information, phone the Art Institute at 832-2730.

'Hairy Ape' extended to May 13

The critical success of the Detroit Repertory Theatre production of Eugene O'Neill's poignant drama, "The Hairy Ape" has prompted the Repertory to extend its run through May 13.

The play will continue to run Thursday through Sunday each week and ticket prices will remain unchanged. "The Hairy Ape" is the story of a man, Yank, a stoker on an ocean liner, who does not belong to any group. He is a loner; a product of the industrial age.

His wall of forced self respect is shattered by a wealthy steel heiress. Repulsed by the sight of sweaty figures shoveling coal, she screams in sickened disgust when confronted by Yank. She sees him as nothing but a "Hairy Ape."

Students get one dollar off on any ticket, any night. Send ticket orders to Detroit Repertory Theatre, 13103 Woodrow Wilson, Detroit, or phone reservations at 868-1347. Call for directions. The Repertory is easily accessible via all freeways. It is located at 13103 Woodrow Wilson, Detroit.

Excessive smoking can cause hiccups

Excessive smoking can cause hiccups just as drinking or eating too much or too fast can trigger them. Hiccups are actually spasms in the diaphragm, the center of breathing, that causes the windpipe to shut tight. A few hiccups are funny, but a lot can be scary.

All kinds of folk remedies deal with hiccups — holding one's breath to the count of 10; drinking a glass of water rapidly; exhaling and inhaling fast into a paper bag. No scientific tests have ever confirmed the value of these techniques.

One person was tested by a medical researcher in San Francisco, remedy — swallowing a teaspoonful of sugar — and found highly effective in stopping hiccups immediately. In controlled studies, Dr. Edgar G. Engleman at the University of California School of Medicine found that most persons in good health, who had not been hiccuping more than several hours, got prompt relief from one spoonful of sugar — taken straight.

Dr. Engleman also studied patients who had suffered from persistent hiccups for periods ranging from 18 hours to six weeks. A sizable number of these persons responded only to repeated treatments; about a third did not respond at all. Of this group, most were suffering from conditions that can stimulate hiccups, such as pneumonia, diabetes, and stroke.

Hiccups persisting for more than six hours at a stretch or keep recurring can be a sign of trouble and should be checked with a doctor.

To find out more about other problems related to breathing that persist and cause trouble, contact your Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan. Formerly the TB and Health Society.

We don't think a dealership should be just a lot of talk.

Talk's cheap. Cars aren't.

So instead of handing you a lot of talk, we hand you a couple of gimmicks.

Gimmick number one: a car that's delivered in flawless condition that really runs like new. Every make-ready function has been performed by a skilled mechanic. Better yet, the car's been test-driven by our most demanding driver.

Gimmick number two: our exclusive Free Mechanic Warranty. It covers everything mechanical for one year or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All mechanical labor connected with the 4,000 and 8,000 mile maintenance program recommended in the ownership manual. There will be no labor charges for this program. Parts if needed, will be billed at the regular rate.

But enough talk. Talk's cheap. We're working to make cars less expensive. Less expensive to buy. Less expensive to drive, too.

It's about time a car dealer delivered more than just a car *
